Behavioural Nifaq

Abid prays, he fasts, he never dares talk back to his teacher at school but at home, he can't help talking back to his mum despite knowing it's a sin to talk back to parents, he feels Al--h will overlook it because He's so merciful and besides, mum keeps nagging. Is Abid a good believer or leaning towards hypocrisy explain what you think?why?

Samiha promised sarah that she'll play with her during lunch recess, but when recess came Samiha went away with Maham to play tag, when sara confronted samiha after the break, Samiha said " oh don't worry i will play with you tomorrow", but the same thing happened and Sara was left alone once again. Samiha plays with sara when they are in class because maham is in another class. but outside Sara goes away to play with Maham as she doesn't need Sara at that time. what tendencies is samiha displaying? could it take her toward hypocrisy? explain?if you were to help samiha what would you tell her? and what is she doing wrong? which saying of the Prophet would you use to back your advice to them?

signs of nifaq in practical examples

shahid just joined school and doesn't have many friends, he knows his neighbour shafiq, who happens to be very popular (has many friends) therefore shahid sits with shafiq as he doesn't know anyone else to have his lunch with and he doesn't want to be lonely, shafiq and the others in the group often joke about and gossip especially about Jawad as Jawad always seems to get good grades and is well mannered and the teachers like him. Inside the classroom Shafiq pretends to be nice to Jawad but behind his back he gossips about him. Explain shahid's behaviour? What do you think is making him joke and gossip about others, what should Shahid do? What would you do in if you were in Shahid's position. How would you help shafiq understand his actions/behaviour?
